

County faces medical service costs

Medina County faces a major dilemma in the form of emergency ambulance service as well as in indigent treatment, said Medina County Judge Jerome Decker following a meeting of the Alamo Area Council of Governments Tuesday night.

At that meeting it was announced that Hurley Funeral Homes will terminate ambulance service at an unspecified date in the near future because of financial losses incurred during the operation of ambulances in Medina County.

Bud Guinn, whose funeral homes in Hondo and Castroville also provide ambulance service for the county, announced that he would stay on in operation until such time as a replacement or interim ambulance service can be provided by county or city governments, then he too would drop the service. Judge Decker has called a special meeting for Tuesday, March 27, of mayors of all incorporated towns in the county, as well as representatives of hospitals and the medical profession, to discuss possible solutions to the emergency health care problem.

Funeral home representatives stated that the average cost of an ambulance call amounts to some $100 and that the average collection per call is only $20. Decker stated that the costs involved in purchase of equipment to meet government standards and the hiring of trained personnel on a 24-hour basis would add up to about $100,000 in the first year of operation should the service be assumed by the county. This would include ambulances based as they are now at Hondo, Castroville and Devine. Any reduced, or token, service by the county is not being considered.

The Tuesday meeting will discuss various volunteer programs and any other solutions that may be feasible including a county takeover of the service.

In other medical-related reports Decker stated that there is currently a bill of over $2,500 to Medina County for treatment of county indigent patients in the Bexar County Hospital.

While denying that any emergency patient has been turned down for treatment at Medina Memorial Hospital for lack of funds, Decker said that there has been a tendency for persons unable to pay hospital costs to enter the San Antonio facility because no prior provision now exists in the Medina County Commissioners Court budget for indigent treatment at Medina Memorial Hospital.

Bills for treatment of Medina County residents are therefore arriving from San Antonio at Medina County Courthouse and a new bill in the Texas Legislature may enable Bexar County to sue for the payment of those bills.

The bill, proposed by Representative Wayland Simmons of San Antonio, would enable a Hospital District such as that in Bexar County to file suit in that district's county against the county in which a needy or indigent patient resided at time of treatment, for payment of hospital bills of that patient.

Decker said he would encourage amendments to the bill in the Texas Senate (providing it passes in the House) that would enable the patient's home county to determine whether or not that patient is indigent. As it stands now, many times the first notice of treatment of a patient comes when the bill is presented.

Further study will also be made into indigent treatment at Medina Memorial Hospital.

Bakers of bread-homemade variety-should take note at these rules for the First Annual Homemade Bread Baking contest to be held on Museum Celebration Day May 5.

Mrs. Bruno (Lillian) Schweers is chairman of the committee and is assisted by Mrs. Eddie Wernette and Mrs. James Fridle.

First off, there is no entry fee. It won't cost a cent to enter.

But two loaves are needed, with one to be served with chili (in the Annual South Texas Champion Chili Cookoff) and the other will be sold and the money given to the Museum.

White or light bread, or dark bread (including whole wheat and rye) may be entered, and the same judges who taste the chili will determine the bread.

Oh, yes, there will be awards, first, second and third place Rosettes.

All entries must be in and registered-they will be numbered-by 11 a.m. May 5; and judging will begin at 1 p.m. at the National Guard Armory.

Score sheets will read: entry in on time, 5 points; texture, 40; taste, 40; color, 5; have bread wrapped in wrap, 5; for a total of 100 points.

HAVING LUNCH

. . . with Governor and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe is not something I had ever thought of doing. And in the Governor's Mansion, yet! That was just too much.

But it all came about Monday when I attended the first annual Texas Press Association Legislative Session along with 35 other Texas newsmen, including my boss Bill Berger.

We were scheduled to meet with the Governor at 9:30 a.m., but to our surprise he changed the schedule and invited all of us to the Mansion for lunch.

I was fortunate to be at the same table and only one person away from the Governor and Mrs. Briscoe and the time was enjoyably spent listening to and discussing problems of the State, crop conditions in Uvalde and Medina counties, the recent time Governor Briscoe had to land his plane at Hondo due to high winds and many other subjects.

GOVERNOR BRISCOE

. . . told the assembled group that the greatest challenge given his administration is fiscal responsibility, "and this means no new taxes," he said.

"The recent decision by the Federal Government to curtail welfare money for social services and the Rodriguez case pending in the Supreme Court on education funding will have a profound effect on our state budget, once they are both definitely decided," he said.

The Governor said that Rural Development is high on his list of goals important to our State. He pointed out his budget message calls for $5,000,000 from State funds to aid this development, with the administration of the programs being accomplished by the Texas Industrial Commission.

MRS. BRISCOE

. . . has money problems [state connected] just like her husband. The Governor's Mansion is in need of a good "going over" repair and cleaning wise and it surprised me to discover that there are

'No new taxes' says top state officials

Whether or not the State of Texas will need additional taxes is a question that is high in the air around the Capitol these days.

And it depends on who is doing the talking as to the answer one comes up with. But no matter the answer arrived at by listening to any certain official, one comes away still wondering what is going to happen.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is strong and emphatic in his assertion that "we must hold the line and say no new taxes this year." In fact, that is the central theme of all his talks at the present.

Monday he told a group of Texas newsmen, including Burnis Lawrence and Bill Berger of the Anvil Herald, that "to hold inflation we must insist that no new taxes be passed this year. And the budget message I sent to the Legislature reflects how I feel this can be accomplished."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Speaker of the House Price Daniel, Jr. both agree that no new taxes is the desired route to take, but they are not as optimistic as Gov. Briscoe that it can be accomplished.

They both say that the Governor has counted money in his budget that "is really not there." These are federal funds that they two say cannot be counted until they are certified by the State Comptroller and "he can't do this until he has the money."

Rep. Don Cavness of Austin, chairman of an interim House Revenue and Tax committee quoted by TPA General Manager Bill Boykin, maintains that "Legislators will be forced to write a new tax bill due to demands of higher education and welfare."

Cavness says: "If the regular session manages to get by with no tax bill, lawmakers will be called into a special session to pass one."

Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington, co-chairman of the committee, shared the gloomy forecast, adding that "federal welfare guidelines will cost the state an extra $100 million a year."

Cavness also cited the estimated $28 million a year cost of an adult education bill and a $13 million cost measure to insure teachers a duty-free lunch hour, plus the multi-million dollar bilingual education bill.

Both lawmakers also referred to the federal case pending in the Supreme Court involving validity of the State's method of financing public school education.

This is known as the Rodriguez case and challenges the present ad valorem system used to finance school districts, saying that students in districts with less tax receipts do not get the same educational opportunities as students in more affluent districts.

Gov. Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Hobby and Speaker Daniel Monday all referred to this case and the federal welfare decisions in their talks about taxes. All agreed that the two, if their burdens are placed entirely upon the state, can make it extremely difficult and almost impossible to get by without new taxes.

Lt. Gov. Hobby says, "I feel that there are many areas where we can cut the budget of the welfare department and help keep off any new tax bill. Also we might fund the department for four or five months in whatever appropriations bill we might pass and see if the federal government reverses its stand."

Hobby did not elaborate on where he thought the welfare budget could be cut, but when asked by Anvil Herald Publisher Burnis Lawrence if he thought the programs which fall under the federal ax are necessary (these are the social services programs) he answered in the affirmative.

Speaker Daniel agreed with Hobby on funding the welfare department for only a short time then taking a look in a special session.

"And even if the Supreme Court fails to go along with the Rodriguez case," he said, "the State of Texas must do something along these lines to make educational opportunities more equitable to all students no matter where they live in the State."

The idea came across loud and clear that all Legislators feel that a special session is absolutely essential either later this fall or early next year. In fact, most of them were firmly behind one year appropriations.

"We have been doing a lot of work this session," the speaker said, "to make the House a more democratic operation. We have changed our rules and put everything more in the open. This means action moves slower and it definitely places a hardship on

Barbecue planned on Sunday

All members of the Pruneda American Legion Post #524 are reminded of an important meet at 5 p.m. Friday, March 23 at the Legion Hall.

Purpose of the meeting is to complete preparations for the "Legion Barbecue", according to Commander T. A. Lopez.

The public is invited to the City Park Sunday, March 25, for a chicken barbecue. Serving will begin at 11 a.m. and last until 1:30 p.m.

Plates will be $1.50 with the money going to the Pruneda American Legion Post No. 524.

Industries seek display spaces

If early interest in display space is an indication, the 1973 Industrial Exhibition will be the biggest ever, according to Chairman Larry Oefinger.

The exhibits will be on display at the Municipal Building in Hondo from Tuesday noon, April 3, until Friday afternoon, April 6.

Industries already lined up for the event include: Universal Rundle, Gary Aircraft Corporation, Medina Agriculture Products, Hondo Vegetable Farming Industry, Alamo Lumber, Anvil Herald, Medina Electric Cooperative, United Gas, Soil Conservation Service, Peg-Mor, Inc. (camper trailers), Hondo Independent School District, deer hunting in Medina County (a display by Harry Filleman), Texas Employment Commission.

Others who have received letters and are interested are urged to contact Larry Oefinger or Mrs. Lillian Porter at the Chamber office.

Plans for the Poster Contest in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are progressing nicely and it is expected many students will vie for the $75 in cash prizes to be awarded.

Scouts plan fund drive kickoff event

Kicking off their 1973 Scout Sustaining Membership Drive, Hondo Scouters and other interested persons will gather at the New Frontier Restaurant at 7 a.m. Thursday, March 29, for a breakfast.

Tony Mendoza, Shop Foreman at the Hondo Anvil Herald, is Finance Chairman for this year's drive. "We plan to finish the campaign in two weeks," he said.

"This will allow us to report on the success of the drive at the Sustaining Membership Victory Dinner on April 16 at the Council Service Center," Mendoza pointed out.

A major effort in this year's campaign will be the reintroduction of the bank draft method of supporting the Scouting program.

Mendoza pointed out: "The Council's operating budget for 1973 is $350,000. Of this $101,000 must be raised through sustaining membership enrollments."

"Hondo's share of the membership portion is $800," he continued. "The money is used to sustain the Scouting program in the community, improve and maintain camps, organize and reorganize packs and troops, provide training and other Scouting programs."

OPEN HOUSE . . . at Lazy Acres Mobile Home Estates was held Saturday and Sunday and a goodly number of people went by to see the Bandera Highway homes. Rep. John Poerner, who has developed the sub-division, is shown here with Mrs. Poerner and their daughter Cathy in front of one of the new homes. Opening of the development fits nicely with the pending arrival of the Del Rio Flying Service, contractors for the Air Force Flight Screening Program at Hondo Airbase and could help alleviate some of the housing problems in the city. [Photo By Ted Mendoza]

It has been a real pleasure returning to Medina County to teach an Accounts Management course for the area business men and women. I'm sure these people are thankful to the Lytle State Bank, Hondo National Bank, D'Hanis State Bank and Credit Bureau Service Center for sponsoring this course. The citizens of Hondo and Medina County are to be congratulated for having business people who are dedicated to serving their customers.

My special thanks to the Hondo Anvil Herald for the complete coverage of the course and for sending four of your staff to participate. The Hondo Garden Club has done a great job in their beautification of the railroad right-of-way.

Mrs. Strickler and I want to say thanks to the friendly people we met here. Our best wishes for your continued growth and excellence in schools, churches and community betterment.

Our personal congratulations and thanks to Evelyn and George Pletz of Credit Bureau Service Center. In covering their bureau area, they held this course in Pearsall and in Hondo and the combined classes is the largest one held in Texas since I've been teaching (April 1, 1970) sponsored and requested by a Credit Bureau—a total of 117.

House Bills 13 and 22, obvious infringements on private ownership rights of citizens, have stirred much interest and concern among private property owners along waterways in Texas.

Specifically, House Bill 13 would give the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department power of condemnation and eminent domain to provide recreational facilities. The "purpose" of this bill is to "provide for the administration of the natural and Scenic Rivers System; the creation of scenic and surface easements; the preservation and protection of natural and scenic rivers."

In addition, House Bill 22 would remove the right that was purchased by private land owners on land that adjoins rivers. It is designed to "provide free public access to public waters through private property". It would be illegal for a landowner to mark his property as "private" so as to protect it.

A sub-committee public hearing was heard on House Bill 13, March 6, 1973 which reported, "There is currently no law to protect the natural and scenic beauty of Texas Rivers. It is felt that such rivers should be protected from the ravages of inundating, channelization, etc." Therefore, it was recommended that the measure be reported back to the Committee on Environmental Affairs as Unfavorable.

It is my firm belief that no agency of this great state should use power of eminent domain to acquire land for recreational purposes. Private ownership of property and the pride of stewardship has been the corner stone of our pioneer spirit.

On March 1, 1973, I introduced House Bill 815 which relates to the appointment, qualifications, powers, and duties of certain special game management officers.

Most counties are limited to one game warden which means he must police approximately 800,000 acres. This bill would give him volunteer assistance, provided the volunteer meets all qualifications of the salaried warden.

An additional advantage would be a deterrent to cattle rustling. The special warden would have police facilities and could make arrests in these cases. Increased prices of beef makes it necessary to give farmers and ranchers additional protection for their livestock.

three different committees who share in the responsibility of upkeep for the Mansion. And everyone has different ideas; consequently, nothing gets done.

Another thing I was unaware of was that if the Governor or Mrs. Briscoe does any entertaining—and I am not speaking of entertaining their friends, but the public—the cost comes out of their own pocket.

One thing the new occupants of the delightful old Mansion have done since moving in last January has been to make it more accessible to the public. Tours are conducted several times a day seven days a week. This gives the public much more access to this historical heritage than it has ever had before. And many of them are there to go through each time a tour begins.

This was my first visit to the Mansion and I would term it a historical highlight of my life. For such a highlight I would have to express my sincere thanks to Governor and Mrs. Briscoe for their gracious hospitality and an excellent lunch of all Texas grown products.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

John Hill gave us an insight into the varied duties of his office and expressed one concern of the State at this time as being the delinquency rate of businesses on sending in the state sales tax.

He says a report recently given his office shows the state is losing some $40,000 annually because businesses will not send in the tax.

A bill is in the House at this time which would require a surety bond of businesses who have to report sales taxes. However, this bond would only be required for new businesses and those whose track record on reporting has left something to be desired. A business that has never been delinquent would not have to have the surety bond. That's what the Attorney General said.

He also said that his office has strongly protested the recent action of the federal government on welfare cutbacks and that the State of Texas might file a suit against HEW to regain what has been impounded by the President. The State already has one suit seeking sanitation funds withheld.

Attorney General Hill also said his office is "knee deep" in Consumer protection action. "HB 75 is a bill designed to protect the consumer against fraudulent actions," he said.

LT. GOVERNOR

Bill Hobby was not as optimistic about a "no new taxes" session, although he said everyone certainly was going to try to make this a reality.

He feels that Governor Briscoe's budget contains some funds that realistically are not available, such as some Federal funds the Governor is counting.

"However," the Lt. Governor said, "I believe that we can cut sufficient amounts out of the welfare budget, without hurting services to anyone, to give us an outside chance of no new taxes."

He said he could foresee a one year appropriation bill with welfare being budgeted for only the first five or six months with the hopes the Federal money will be re-instated by that time.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Price Daniel Jr. thinks along the same lines as the Lt. Governor when it comes to believing the Governor has included funds that are not available to the State at this time, and therefore his budget is unrealistic.

"The Rodriguez case on public school taxing will affect our thinking greatly," he said. "Of course, I believe we must do something along

CHAMBER CORNER

Need to call someone in a Texas town and don't know the number or want to find an address? We have many new directories and you are welcome to use them.

John O. Evans III of Trinity University requested assistance in supplying information on urban studies for a class in intensive study of regional planning.

O. P. Schnabel phoned from San Antonio one night to urge Hondo to participate in the Governor's Community Achievement Awards Program. He then sent information on this beautification program and it has been turned over to Mrs. Nancy Fridle, chairman of the Chamber Beautification Committee.

Ivan Moore of the Peg-Mor Inc. dropped by to say he intends having a display during Industrial Week of his camper trailer operation here in Hondo.

Brochures added to our library: Gatlinburg, Tennessee directory and Great Smoking Mountains, Texas Calendar of Events, Conquistadore Trail, Texas Land of Contrast, Texas

Also, we have a new supply of 1973 Texas Camp directories. These are accredited camps put out by American Camping Association. If your child desires to go to a camp this summer, it will be well worth your time to check on these.

World Wide Golf Directory in Washington, D. C. wanted information on golfing facilities here in Hondo. Was very pleased to be able to send them the information on our well kept course.

Whew, get set for the action list.

Memoographed and mailed minutes of last meeting of CofC board, deer leases requested 6, calls on Social Security 3, job applications and referrals 28, job orders 2, Salvation Army pickups 3, letters and phone calls for list of Hondo businesses 1, letter mailed to add our Armstrong Hotel and Whitetail Lodge to the Leahy Hotel-Motel Guide and Travel Atlas.

these lines regardless of the Supreme Court decision, but we do need time to come up with a viable plan for financing."

He also feels that the one year appropriation is the only practical way to approach the State's financial problems with all the uncertainties now apparent.

"We just can't say where we will go right now," he said.

The Speaker is very proud of the "reforms" this Legislature has made in the House. He feels the new rules on the floor, on making committee hearings open to the public and other factors have made the Texas system of government "more democratic".

He expressed disappointment that his ethics legislation failed to come out as strong as he wanted it to, but said the session is only half way over [Monday was the 70th day of the 140 days session] and "we have other plans."

SECRETARY OF STATE

Mark White told us that his main work now concerns the Texas Election Code and especially the question of "who is going to pay the primary election costs."

Several proposals have been made including different dates for the primaries, a presidential primary, a unitary primary and others.

"We don't know which way we are going," he said, "but the decisions will have to be made soon so that all the machinery can work on time for the 1974 elections."

Both Secretary White and his lovely wife knew where Hondo is located. "You have the best steak house in Texas," they said. "We hunt in Uvalde and make it a point to stop at Herman Sons in Hondo to eat. [Note to Herman Sons owner Leroy Britsch: I'll give you that plug free since it was made in front of a public gathering.]

... says he "is liking his new job and thanks the people of the district for placing him there."

Traeger drew the short straw in the recent selections for lengths of term and his last two years. "But a campaign now won't be half as hard to make since I know the people and have had two years of serving them behind me."

I told the Senator we at the Anvil Herald are behind him all the way and invited him to come out and visit with us and get better acquainted with the fine folks of Medina County.

REP. JOHN POERNER

... was the only person up there who was fortunate enough to miss me. I tried to see him in between our visits to all the other offices and really he was just too busy. One time he had someone in his office and three waiting; another time he was on the floor; another time he was in a committee hearing; and Monday evening he had a sub-committee hearing on Daylight Saving Time. He was one busy hombre.

All I can say, John, is "maybe next time."

ALL IN ALL

... I would say I experienced one of the most enjoyable and informative days I have ever had.

And believe it or not, I got an idea for a new collection. The Texas Star has run several front page pictures on outstanding people, including Governor Briscoe.

I now have that front page autographed by the Governor, one autographed by Attorney General John Hill, one autographed by Speaker of the House Price Daniel, Jr. and have a few others to go. Framed, they will make a nice addition to my "shrine room" as Patricia and the girls term the den at our home.

FFA judging contests

Judging Contest time has arrived again. The Hondo FFA Chapter boys will be entering two judging contests this weekend as practice before moving into district and area judging contests.

Early Saturday morning a bus load of FFA boys will depart for Texas A&M University, where they will compete in practice judging of Land, Range and Poultry. After the contestants have completed filling in their cards, the official answers will be given as the boys go back through the classes they judged.

The Land team will score four land judging sites. The Range team will score two range utilization sites and a pasture judging site, and will identify and classify 15 grass plants. The Poultry judging teams will score 9 classes (these include birds and market eggs).

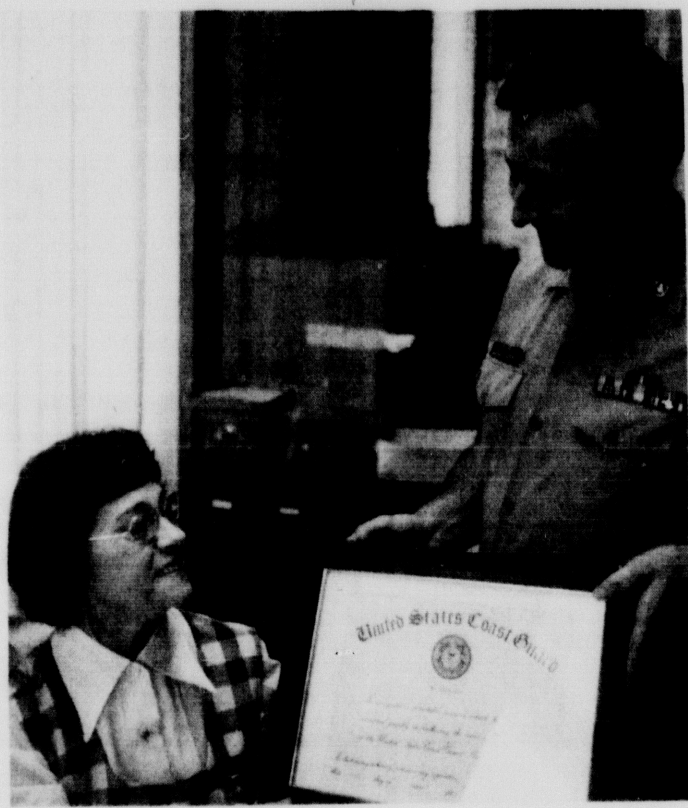

Also Hondo FFA boys will enter the Southwest Texas University Judging Contest at San Marcos. Here the boys will score classes of dairy cattle and classes of beef cattle and hogs and sheep. After the cards have been turned in, the officials will give the correct placing for each class.

The Revaldina FFA District Livestock, Poultry and Dairy Judging contest will be held at Southwest Texas Jr. College in Uvalde on March 28th. Here four boys may serve on the judging team with the three high scorers constituting the team score.

Each chapter may enter an alternate team of four boys. As we move into Area judging, the boys scoring the highest score in these practice contests will serve as the official team at Area Contest on April 14th.

Our neighboring city of Portland [pop. 7,362] is presenting its first annual Pioneer Pageant March 30-31-April 1. Festivities include a parade with bands, floats, horses, antique cars; air show, motorcycle races, water sports, real old time western barbecue, contests, exhibits. A swing-your-partner dance will follow the beauty pageant which begins at 7 p.m. on Friday.

Isn't it about time for a coastal trip? Y'all come and wear your Museum Day buttons. Maybe some Portlanders will return the visit May 5th.

Having noted that Hondo had more than 2,993 phones as of Dec. 1, 1972, I recalled these items from our 75th anniversary edition:

The first phone connected in the city was for WINDROW DRUG, now PEDEN REXALL DRUG. Following the good example set by its founding predecessor, they continue to maintain phone service, answer all calls promptly and are glad you called.

Also, in 1916, the ANVIL HERALD printed 650 SW Tel directories "showing what a phenomenal growth the Hondo Exchange has made under the management of J. B. Hurt."

JESS LEDBETTER upped the total considerably in the years since.

What does LIL [C of C] PORTER do while she's resting? She must know the formula for making time, even for what she calls the "little-bitsy" time-consumers.

Like the man [Ralph Waldo Emerson] said: "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

WINNIE BRADEN is among former CC secretaries who lent her own brand of optimistic enthusiasm to helping keep Hondo "on the map".

To a Houston 4th grader whose letter-to-the-editor I read recently, geography by any other name is still geography. Said she:

"I've been going to this school four years. Far as I know, we have had it ever since the school began and will probably have it until the school falls down. Call it SS-Social Science or Studies or whatever you want, it is still just geography."

But how the years have changed the maps since I was a 4th grader!

Museum Day[s] plans promise a good time will be had by all. Remembering the "serenatas" of my girlhood days along the Rio Grande, I am pleased to know that a Mariachi Band has been added to the other musical features.

Did you know that Hondo once had a City Band of its own, circa 1898-1902? Perhaps its successor might be organized to make music wherever it goes. And, such a band might find plenty of places to go.

Speaking [or writing or reading] of bands, Director BILLY HARRELL must not have too much time to fly kites or play marbles, what with all the honors his Hondo bands are bringing home.

Last week's pictures of band winners included a lot of band beauties.

A recent letter from GLADYS [Mrs. L. D.] WILLIAMS outlined plans for the Hondo ART LEAGUE's participation in the Museum Day exhibits. Her enthusiasm for the challenge must be shared by all members of the newly formed League and I wish them the success such cooperative effort deserves.

Corpus Christi seems to be a very "art conscious" city, with lots of local talent and many exhibits that attract interest and, what's more, many buyers.

Recently I saw a series of local-theme pictures, similar in design and size to the sketches which SNOOKIE [Mrs. Fred] BADER and her son JON made for our Museum program. Some of these were in individual frames and priced at $12 each. The Bader pictures would make an impressive panel, either framed or on a background ready for framing.

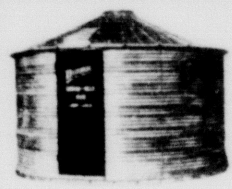

First thing I know, I'll be talking myself into thinking that I must have one myself.

"Immortality Newsletter", published somewhere in California [where else?] contains formulas for longevity.

A sampling: "Believe in God, pray daily, have a free mind, and don't fall for religious bunk."

"Read spicy detective stories, shun physical exercise and smoke a corn cob pipe continuously."

If we followed these rules, we might not live so long but it would probably seem a lot longer!

Historical Pilgrimage set in Castroville on April 8

On Sunday, April 8, 1973, from noon until 6 p.m. the Castro Garden Club will hold the Historical Pilgrimage of century old homes in Castroville. There will also be an Art Show on the grounds of the Landmark Inn. The tickets are $1.50 per person and will include admission to the Art Show and the tour of homes. The tickets will be sold until 5:30 p.m.

The homes were built between 1845 and 1875 and reflect the European background of the early settlers. They are made of native limestone and adobe. Construction of the walls vary from 18 to 22 inches. The beams of cypress are from the trees that grew along the Medina River. The original shingles were from the cedar trees on the surrounding hills.

The homes to be opened for the tour are:

1. Nicholas Haby House - Studio of Robert Quill Johnson, built in 1869 and now known as the House on September Square. Furnished completely with early Texas antiques and Mr. Johnson's art work displayed throughout.

2. The Kiefer House - This home was recently restored by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stovall and is a unique "split-level" design.

3. The Haller House is owned by the American Legion Post 460. The Legion purchased and restored the house to use as a meeting hall. There will be some interesting displays loaned to the Legion for the occasion.

4. The Marion House is the home of Dr. and Mrs. Woodrow Sharp. This home is recorded in the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. as an example of Pioneer Texas architecture. Mrs. Sharp is an artist with needle and thread as well as with oils.

5. Home of Rodney Noonan. At one time this was the home of Mrs.

Henri Castro. Mr. Noonan in his restoration removed all the building additions and returned it to the original pioneer state.

SP would close depot

Southern Pacific Railroad will make application to the Texas Railroad Commission to bring the functions now handled by depots under control of a central San Antonio Service Center.

The move would close depots now existing at Hondo, Kenedy, Schulenburg, Del Rio, Luling, Seguin and Marathon and replace their personnel with a San Antonio office which could be reached by toll-free telephone call by customers in the area. A seasonal agency will be established at Uvalde to handle perishable traffic.

The Service Center concept is an outgrowth of the Southern Pacific microwave communications system—largest privately owned in the U.S.—and the

U/R is restructured

NEW CASTLE, Pa.—J. W. Sant, president of Universal-Rundle Corporation, today announced that the company has been restructured on a divisional basis to enable it to capitalize on its leading position in the plumbing fixture industry, particularly in the area of fiberglass bathtubs and shower stalls.

Effective immediately, the U-R Division of Universal-Rundle Corporation will be responsible for the manufacture and marketing of basic bathroom fixtures — vitreous china, fiberglass, and newly developed acrylic units. The change makes the division compatible with the company's Milwaukee Faucets Division, and the recently acquired Norway Products Division. The former produces brass fittings, while the latter produces vanities, vanity tops and institutional furnishings.

"It is no longer feasible for Universal-Rundle Corporation to continue to operate its basic bathroom fixture activities on a corporate basis, while its allied products are produced and sold on a divisional basis," Sant said, adding:

"Therefore, we are establishing a separate division for the production and sale of basic bathroom products, particularly since they exhibit such great growth potential through the company's pioneering efforts in the development and marketing of fiberglass bathtubs and shower stalls."

Named to head the new division as president and chief operating officer is Robert H. Carlson, formerly vice president of marketing for the corporation.

Louis A. Marozzi, former national sales manager for the company, is now vice president, marketing, for the new division.

Robert Soderstrom will continue as president and chief operating officer of Northway, while Martin W. Peterman will continue in the same capacity at Milwaukee Faucets.

Richard Altman has been named comptroller for the newly formed U-R Division, reporting to Mr. Carlson.

Universal-Rundle Corporation, headquartered in New Castle, Pa., has manufacturing facilities in nine states, and markets its fiberglass, vitreous china and acrylic fixtures, as well as brass fittings, vanities and associated bathroom products nationally.

Burn Coastal ?

By Jerry Turrentine
 Biologist, SCS

A frequently asked question is "Should I burn my coastal?"

Many harmful and desirable insects are killed by burning. Burning under improper atmospheric conditions can cause pollution in the lower atmosphere, especially near large cities which already generate a large amount of pollution.

If heavy rainfall is received after burning and before the grass has regrown sufficiently, severe erosion can occur.

This results in the loss of needed organic matter, essential mineral nutrients, and pollution of local streams, rivers and other surface waters.

Many of the areas we advise to be planted to Coastal are areas with a high potential for erosion. Bare soil is exposed by Coastal burning, which usually results in a weed infestation that may require spraying. Frequently, these weeds are unpalatable, resulting in a loss of water and nutrients which could have been utilized by the grass. The exposed soil surface also increases water loss due to evaporation.

The principal benefits realized from Coastal burning in our area are that it facilitates the digging of springs and removes trash, which improves planting success. If burning is one, proper control measures and caution should be used to prevent a wild fire.

Coastal pastures used for grazing in our area should not be burned. Dead grass on the surface reduces water loss and increases the organic matter which enhances the water absorbing capacity of the soil.

Pearl Distributing Company will pay for aluminum cans

Pearl Beer Distributing Company of Castroville and Medina County will join the fight against litter in Medina County in April as part of a statewide system of 81 aluminum recycling centers being set up by the Pearl Brewing Company of San Antonio.

Lynn Boehme, owner of the local distributing company, said the public would be able to redeem their empty all-aluminum cans for 10 cents a pound at the special collection center adjacent to the company's facilities at Castroville.

Frank F. Horlock, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Pearl Brewing, outlined the plan for the recycling program at a special meeting at the brewery recently. At that time, Horlock also announced that the company will convert its San Antonio brewery production to the use of all-aluminum cans.

"It is reasonable to assume that some 50 million cans will be removed from the litter and solid waste stream in Texas annually through this program," Horlock said. "This, of course, can have a major effect upon the environment of the state."

In a special interview, Boehme briefly outlined how the program will work in Medina County.

"Cans should be collected and brought to the recycling center. They will be run through a magnetic separator to eliminate steel cans and then weighed. Then the collector will be paid 10 cents a pound, approximately 1/2 cent a can. It's as simple as that," he said.

Boehme cautioned, however, that not all beverage cans are aluminum. "Many are just partially aluminum," he said. "All aluminum beverage cans have no side seam, have rounded bottoms and are not affected by a magnet."

Testing the cans with a magnet is the best way to judge whether or not it is all-aluminum, according to Boehme.

The Pearl Recycling Center in Castroville will be in operation from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Saturdays, beginning April 15.

Nationally, Boehme noted, more than 1.4 billion aluminum beverage cans were redeemed for cash in 1972. Some $6.2 million was paid to the public for redeemed cans.

He said the cans would be recycled into new aluminum cans or useful aluminum products, thus re-entering the economy in a variety of ways.

D'Hanis Lumber Co. incorporates

As of March 1, 1973, D'Hanis Lumber Company incorporated and became Gallo Lumber Company, a subsidiary of Gallo de Cristal, Inc.

Purpose of the move was to expand into construction sales as well as the present retail sales. Gallo de Cristal is also the parent corporation for Gallo Construction Company of Hondo.

Robert Rothe, former sole owner of D'Hanis Lumber Company, is managing the lumber division, and serves as manager of Gallo Construction Company.

President of the corporation is Woodrow Glasscock, Jr. of Hondo.

To help with litter

Pearl Beer Distributor Lynn Boehme (right) and Frank P. Horlock, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Pearl Brewing Company, will cooperate in a program to recycle 50 million beverage cans annually, removing the empty cans from the Texas environment. The recycling plant will operate adjacent to the Pearl Brewery in San Antonio. The 81 Pearl Beer Distributors in Texas will establish recycling centers and will buy back aluminum beverage cans of all brands for 10 cents per pound.

Texas Star takes all on journey to Mexico

Emphasizing Mexico as a land of contrasts, the Texas Star features this neighboring country in a special edition this Sunday.

Barry Bishop, an American journalist and correspondent for 15 years in Mexico, compares the country's past and future in "Modern Mexico on the Move". According to Bishop, "President Luis Echeverria Alvarez is working feverishly to speed interior development and to create at least 600,000 new jobs a year in a country of 50 million." An increase in agricultural and industrial production and overseas trading are major developments implemented to reach this goal.

Also in the Star, Jean Harker Burns informs American tourists to Mexico of important customs regulations which will save time and money at border crossings. Jeff W. Henderson details a fascinating train tour of a canyon complex in Mexico that is four times larger than the Grand Canyon in the United States.

A biographical profile on Dr. Hector Garcia, founder of American GI Forum, which seeks to benefit Mexican-American veterans and their families, is drawn by John Paul Moore. Twenty-five years after its organization, the Forum has grown to 240 chapters in 22 states.

Food editor Mary Faulk Kooch features favorite Mexican recipes such as Pozole and Pinto Bean Soup in her weekly Star Hostess column.

Rest area construction announced by dept.

The Texas Highway Department has announced a new construction project on IH 35 between Natalia and Lytle in Medina County. The work will involve construction of two comfort stations in the presently existing rest area at an estimated cost of approximately $240,000.

Contractor for this work is Wolfe Construction Company, Houston. The work will begin approximately March 23 and be completed within 120 working days.

A pre-construction meeting was held between the contractor, members of the Texas Highway Department and law enforcement agencies.

C. E. Hackebell, Supervising Resident Engineer of the Texas Highway Department in Hondo, explained that the rest area will be available for use by the public during construction of comfort stations, and inconvenience to the public will be kept to a minimum. At times when it is necessary for equipment to block traffic, flagmen will be stationed to direct traffic. The contractor will make every effort to keep inconvenience of the traveling public and adjacent property owners to a minimum.

Tampering with barricades and warning signs is unlawful and will bring a fine up to $200 plus costs for each offense for those found guilty. All law enforcement agencies are requested to assist in apprehending violators; this includes the shooting out or damaging of flasher lights attached to barricades and warning signs.

Band wins third Sweepstakes

Hondo High School's Owl Band brought home a history-making third consecutive Sweepstakes Award from Saturday's UIL Region XI Concert and Sight Reading Contest at Fredericksburg. That achievement was also matched by the McDowell Junior High Band which also brought home top ratings in both concert and sight reading.

The two were among 35 bands competing on Friday and Saturday in Fredericksburg.

Judges for the contest were Richard Crain of Belton High School; Douglas Williamson of Pleasanton High School; and Richard Cranford of Alamo Heights High School. Sight reading judge was Bob Lewis of John Marshall High School. Contest Chairman was Tom Rhodes, band director at Fredericksburg High School.

Other area schools achieving the Sweepstakes Award, which is earned by gaining I ratings in marching, concert and sight reading contests, were Devine and Pearsall High Schools.

Both the bands and Director Billy Harrell received flattering comments from the judges. For the McDowell Jr. High Band such comments were written as "Fine Class C junior high band."

Congratulations! "Creditable job for your fine director and school. You can be proud." "Fine young band and ...

excellent director." The Owl Band came in for its share of praise, too. One judge remarked, "I always enjoy hearing this fine band. Congratulations to you kids and your great director, Billy Harrell, who helps you to make it happen." Another said, "A truly remarkable band-magnificent!"

New contact lens available locally

Dr. John H. Jennings, Hondo optometrist, is pleased to announce the immediate availability of Softlens (TM) Contact Lenses (polymacon)-the new soft contact lens from Bausch & Lomb.

Dr. Jennings has fitted hard contact lenses for about 12 years and agrees the new soft contact lens is the most fascinating development in its field since contact lenses were invented.

It is made from a unique plastic material which absorbs water and becomes soft and supple.

These lenses are comfortable from the beginning. What's more, it's easier for your eyes to adapt to them. Many people who found they could not wear hard contact lenses have now found great satisfaction. And others who ordinarily might never have considered contact lenses at all, are beginning to think differently.

Are they right for you? Only an eye and vision examination can determine this-the lenses are not made in bifocals, nor in high astigmatism corrections-but if you qualify (for nearsightedness and-or astigmatism, and for patients who have had cataract surgery), then there are a few advantages: accidental loss is far less common than with the hard contact lens because the soft lens can't be popped out by blinking (ideal for athletes); ideal for "part-time" wear, which is almost impossible with the hard lens; and it is almost impossible to get dust under the soft lens, an irritating factor with the hard lens.

Truly a remarkable product... this Softlens. [Adv.]

Owl golfers ready for district tournament

The Hondo High School Golf Team, coached by Terry Tilley, will travel to Carrizo Springs Monday, March 26, for their District Meet.

The meet will pit the five top golfers from each of the schools fielding golf teams from District 28AA. This year will be the first in which Hondo has entered a team.

Those participating in the meet will be golf teams from Carrizo Springs, Hondo, Medina Valley and Devine.

Tomorrow the Owls will enter a practice meet at San Antonio's Woodlake Golf Course, hosted by Judson High School. Golfers from Devine and Medina Valley will enter this tournament along with Hondo, as a final warmup for the District clash.

S.A. Boxing meet set

The Second Annual South Texas AAU Boxing Tournament has been scheduled to be conducted at San Antonio's Municipal Auditorium on April 2, 3, 5, and 6, according to an announcement by Charlie Mata, president of the San Antonio Regional Amateur Boxing Coaches Association, sponsors of the tourney.

The four-day fist meet is expected to attract approximately 175 amateur scrappers from throughout the southern portion of the Lone Star State, according to Mata.

Contestants have until Monday, March 27, to mail entry papers to: Carlos Mata, 407 N.

Calaveras St., San Antonio, Texas 78207.

The fights begin at 7 p.m. on each evening of the scheduled tourney.

Representatives of the sponsoring SARABCA indicate that they anticipate a maximum of entries from the numerous clubs in the San Antonio area and have received tentative commitments from amateur fighters in Hondo, as well as Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Del Rio, Laredo, Fort Hood, Crystal City, McAllen, Uvalde, Robstown, Camp Gary, Austin and Seguin, indicating their intentions to be in attendance to participate in the tournament.

Little League prepares 1973 team rosters

Little League managers filled their rosters Tuesday night in preparation for the upcoming season.

Completely organized the teams are all ready to begin play in May.

Rosters of players and managers for all the teams will be announced in the Anvil Herald on March 29.

Brian Finger of the Hondo High School golf team makes some last minute adjustments to his form under the watchful eye of Coach Terry Tilley. Finger and other members of the golf team will play for the district title Monday at Carrizo Springs.

Baseballers hit road; will return on Tuesday

The Owls will travel to Fredericksburg today to meet their first season opponent on their home ground at 4:15. When the two last met the Owls wound up on top with a 5-0 decision. That game was the first for the fledgling Billie baseball team as this is Fredericksburg's inaugural year in the sport.

Friday, the Owls will again be out of town, this time to meet Poteet for a 7:30 evening game. The road games continue as the Owls go west Saturday for a single game with the Uvalde Coyotes at 4:30 p.m.

Then Tuesday, March 27, Poteet will send their team to Hondo for a 7:30 game at Owl Field, and the last practice game before Devine opens district play against the Owls on Thursday.

Other non-conference games will follow but that game will be for keeps.

Last weekend the Owls had some tough breaks in the late innings at the Uvalde Invitational Baseball Tournament. Beginning Thursday night the Owls held host Uvalde scoreless until five errors in the seventh and eighth innings cost the game, 3-2. Hondo had opened the scoring as Henry Walch tripled in the fifth, and Gene McAnelly doubled him in, reaching third himself on an outfield error. Pitcher Jim Prescott scored McAnelly with his grounder.

Thinclads enter Uvalde meet

The Hondo High School track team will compete this Friday in the Uvalde Invitational Track Meet, the next-to-last preparatory meet before the District meet at Pearsall.

Last Friday the Owls placed sixth in Division II of the Kerrville Invitational meet. But Hondo boys turned in some creditable individual performances in the meet.

In the high jump Mike Hilberling placed fourth for the Owls and Keith Ligon rounded out the field events by landing a fourth place in the discus throw.

In track competition Eddie Pope scored a double triumph in the hurdles. He placed second in the 120-yard high hurdles in a time of 15.9 and took fifth place in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 43.5.

In the 220-yard dash Gene McAnelly finished in second place with a 23.0 time and Gene also led a Hondo trio in the 100-yard dash. He, Kebo Ligon and Sammy Nooner finished 3, 4, 5 in the event. McAnelly's time in that event was 10.3.

Benito Pina of the Owls, a distance runner, finished 3rd in the Mile Run at 4:49.5.

Winner in Division II was Devine with 93 1/2 points followed closely by Randolph with 91. In third place was Junction with 88 1/2 points, then Mason with 74 and Marble Falls with 45 1/2. Hondo gathered 44 points. Boerne scored 26 1/2, Dripping Springs 11, Comfort 10, Llano 6, and Bandera 6.

Army seeking volunteers for 'Alamo Platoon'

Army recruiters from this area are actively engaged in enlisting young men and women high school seniors and graduates for active duty commencing 8th June 1973.

According to Lt. Col. Raymond C. Moir, Commander of the U.S. Army Recruiting Main Station in San Antonio, the project-known as "The Alamo Platoon"-will offer a combination of three Army enlistment options to qualified individuals.

The first option-The Delayed Entry Program-permits a person to enlist in the Army before graduation, and not leave for active duty until 8th June 1973.

The second option-The Buddy Program-permits young men to enlist for the same type of training and if qualified, go through basic and advanced training as a unit. These individuals may, if they further desire be assigned to their choice of a division or unit located at Ft. Hood or Ft. Sam Houston.

will be enlisted as a group in the Army on the evening of June 8th 1973 at the V. J. Keefe Stadium, St. Mary's university in San Antonio. The enlistment ceremony will be conducted after the first game of the scheduled double-header baseball game between the San Antonio Brewers and the Arkansas Travellers.

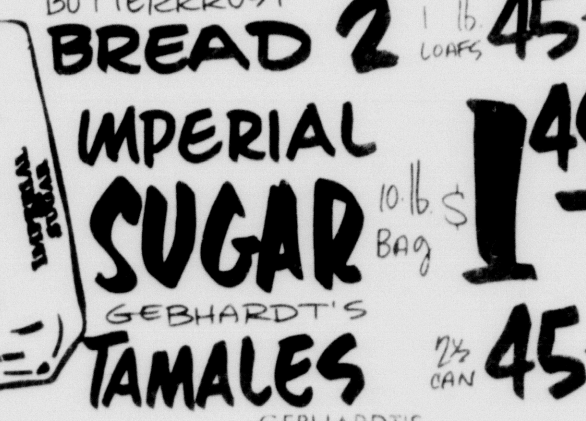

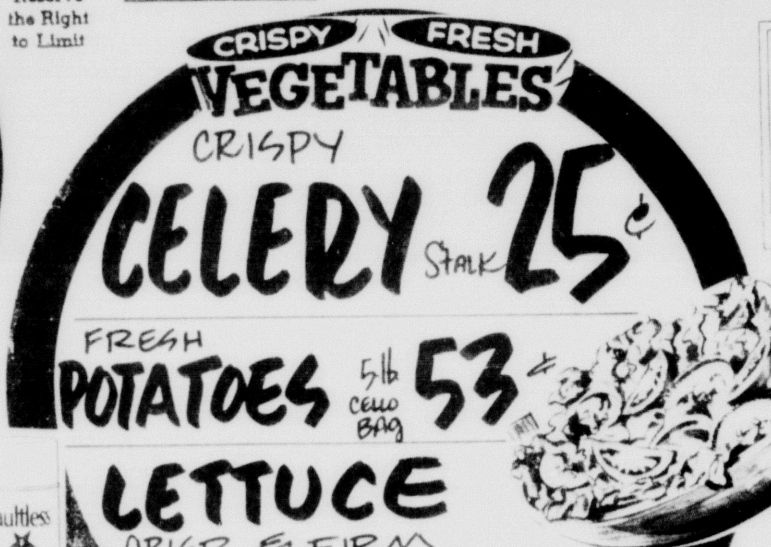

The various participating Army Units will furnish band music, a color guard and a display of current Army equipment. In addition, a helicopter flyover is planned, along with a repelling team which will provide a thrilling demonstration of how a combat team can exit a helicopter as it hovers at least 100 feet off the ground.

Units participating in the "Alamo Platoon" are: The First Cavalry Division; The 2nd Armored Division; and The 720th Military Police Battalion from Ft. Hood; the Brooke Army Medical Center Unit of Choice and the Ft. Sam Houston Station Choice are also participating from Ft. Sam Houston.
